

Excursion/Incursion Policy and Procedures

This policy addresses issues in relation to:
Safe and Supportive Environment – Student Welfare 3.6.2

(See also policies on Parents & Visitors, Workplace Health and Safety, Duty of Care, Privacy Policy and Risk Assessment Policy)

This Policy specifically addresses the planning of excursions/incursions including, permission notes, parent helpers/volunteers information, student briefings, preparation and third party providers. The document also provides an appendix with checklists with minimum steps and permission and consent template forms.

Information

Excursions/incursions are designed to enhance in-school classroom based programs. These organised experiences, when integrated with classroom work, contribute to student growth and development through:

- Enriching student experiences
- Implementation and completion of syllabus outcomes
- Broadening subject concepts
- Reinforcing the achievement of course outcomes
- Providing opportunities for the development of social skills
- Promoting development of self-esteem

The organising staff must complete the following forms and submit them to the Coordinator then Deputy Principal (Primary/High School) for approval:

- a) Excursion/Incursion Proposal Form (Refer to Appendix 1)
- b) Risk Assessment Proforma (Refer to Appendix 2)
- c) Excursion Checklist (Refer to Appendix 3)
- d) Ensure that Parent/helpers and volunteers have received or completed:
 - Parent/Helper Checklist and Guidelines (Refer to Appendix 4)
 - WWCC (Working With Children Check) number / Existing parents with a WWCC number prior to 15 June 2013 complete and sign a Parent/Helper Declaration Form (Refer to Appendix 5)
 - Proof of Identification – 100 points of identification (verified and sighted by Office/Administration Staff) (Refer to Appendix 6 for documentation use for identification – Adopted from NSW Government Education & Communities)

Duty of Care on Excursions/Incursions

Excursions and incursions are part of the school curriculum. They are facilitated and approved by the school. Therefore, the school owes a duty of care to the students while on excursions/incursions inclusive of the following situations:

1. the school does not have direct control over the student during the excursion/incursion (or parts of it); or
2. the excursion/incursion is held after school, on the weekend or during school holidays.
3. the students are handed over to the supervision of another party (for example the excursion/incursion third party provider).

Excursion/incursion organisers at Al-Faisal College always endeavour to strike a balance between supervision of students who are under the school's care and the encouragement of independence.

School Obligations in Relation to Excursions/Incursions

Under its duty of care, the school ensures, so far as is reasonably practicable, that the health and safety of students are not put at risk while they are on excursions/incursions.

When organising an excursion/incursion, the school takes the necessary steps to fulfil its duty of care to students and ensure their wellbeing, health and safety under the Work Health and Safety legislation.

This policy focuses on the school's obligations to students when on excursions/incursions. However, the School ensures that risks to staff are also included and addressed in risk assessments and risk management plans.

Steps Taken Before the Excursion/Incursion at Al-Faisal College:

The following guidelines are required before undertaking an excursion/incursion:

Risk Assessment

Excursion/incursion organisers at Al-Faisal College are required to carry out a risk assessment and develop a risk management plan prior to the excursion/incursion (Appendix 2). If the activity is high risk or the site is unfamiliar, a site visit may be required prior to the excursion to assess the risks. In many cases a briefing from the person responsible for the site will suffice.

In determining whether a site visit is required, the excursion/incursion organisers / Co-ordinator should have regard to:

- a) the information provided by either the teacher organising the excursion the excursion provider. Many excursion providers are experienced in providing the information required by the Excursion/Incursion Policy. This information may be provided by way of documentation and/or a briefing from a person responsible for the site;
- b) the nature of the excursion/incursion, including the location of the site and the risk of the activity to be undertaken;
- c) the familiarity of the supervising teacher with the excursion/incursion site, including transport arrangements; and
- d) any special needs of the students participating in the excursion.

Potential hazards and risks that may arise during each stage of the excursion/incursion should be identified and measures to eliminate or minimise these risks put in place.

Activities chosen for school excursions/incursions must be suitable for the students' ages, levels of maturity, experience, capacity and natural propensity for mischief.

School Steps in Organising an Excursion/Incursion

Al-Faisal College has in place policies and procedures relating to the following:

- a) authorisation of excursions/incursion;
- b) equipment to be taken on excursions/incursions (including first aid and other safety equipment);
- c) the staff to student ratio on excursions/incursions (this is to be determined by the Deputy Principal (Primary/High School); and
- d) the training required for staff members participating in excursions/incursions.

Teachers

The school requires that the supervising teachers have:

- a) appropriate skills and expertise;
- b) been extensively briefed on the nature of the excursion/incursion;
- c) been consulted about and involved in the preparation of the risk assessment and risk management plan for the excursion/incursion;

- d) been trained in relation to all relevant elements of the risk management plan;
- e) understood their role and obligations regarding supervision, emergency procedures and first aid.

Parent Helpers / Volunteers

Al-Faisal College considers whether parents/guardians or other volunteers should assist in excursions/incursions. The School ensures that there are sufficient teachers to properly administer the excursion/incursion and sufficient teachers and responsible volunteers to supervise the students.

If parent/helpers or volunteers are to assist, the school ensures that:

- a) they are appropriately briefed in relation to their responsibilities, safety and behaviour requirements (Refer to Parent / Helper Guidelines); and
- b) supervisory roles and responsibilities are clearly allocated and understood by all involved.
- c) Parent helpers / Volunteers should have a Working With Children number or / Existing parents with a WWCC number prior to 15 June 2013 complete and sign a Parent/Helper Declaration Form (refer to Child Protection Policy).

Safety

Students who have not displayed sensible, reliable behaviour at school or on previous excursions/incursions may be excluded from participating in school excursions/incursions.

Organising and supervising staff should ensure that they are aware if any safety equipment is required for the excursion.

If safety equipment is required the school:

- a) ensures that it is provided by the excursion provider (and make such enquiries as are required to satisfy themselves that the equipment is properly maintained); or
- b) ensures that it is provided by the school; or
- c) advises the students of the need to provide safety equipment and that participation in the excursion will not be permitted without such equipment.

If, as part of excursions/incursions, students participate independently, without direct supervision from teachers, the school ensures that parents/guardians are informed and agree to the arrangements and that all possible steps are taken to ensure the safety and welfare of the unaccompanied students including: giving students proper instructions, checking the travel details, giving students instructions in relation to emergency strategies and so on.

Medical Information

For many excursions/incursions it will not be necessary to collect a new medical information form. Organising and supervising staff should:

- Ensure that any medical information held is appropriate and takes account of the activities provided by the excursion. If it does not, additional medical information should be sought. This can be addressed in the permission note.
- Know the health and fitness of students who are to participate in excursions and make a decision as to whether the excursion activities are appropriate in light of this knowledge.
- Ensure that first aid procedures are prepared and known by staff during the excursions/incursions (refer to Medical Care Policy).
- Organise health care plans for students with special needs.

Permission Notes

Al-Faisal College ensures that parents/guardians are kept informed about all excursions/incursions students attend. The school obtains the permission of a student's parent/guardian prior to the student's participation in the excursion/incursion.

Permission forms or supplementary information provided in relation to particular excursions/incursions are tailored to the particular excursion/incursion, but include, at a minimum, the following information:

- description and aims of excursion/incursion;
- teacher in charge;
- location of excursion/incursion;
- excursion itinerary/information sheet;
- proposed travel arrangements; and
- other relevant information.

Al-Faisal College acknowledges that the purpose of the permission note is to provide parents/guardians with sufficient information to:

- a) make an informed decision as to whether their child should be permitted to participate in an excursion/incursion; and
- b) to assess whether any information about a child's special needs/medical condition is required.

For events involving specific skills, parents/guardians are required to indicate the skill level of the student. If permission is not granted for a student to attend an excursion/incursion, appropriate alternate arrangements are made.

Transport

Safe transport or walking arrangements must be made for excursions/incursions.

Student Briefings and Preparation

Prior to the excursion/incursion, students should be given information about the excursion/incursion including:

- general information about the aims of the excursion/incursion and the activities to expect
- information about appropriate behaviour while on the excursion/incursion
- instruction to follow directions given by (as appropriate) teachers, volunteers, third party providers and so on. In particular, students should be advised to follow all safety instructions
- materials that students must bring on the day of the excursion
- information about particular risks they may face during the excursion/incursion
- any safety information that has been provided to the school in relation to the excursion/incursion should be passed on to students
- information in relation to dealing with unexpected situations and risks that might occur during the excursion/incursion
- information in relation to steps that should be taken should a student feel unsafe or uncomfortable at any time during the excursion/incursion. This information should include ways of seeking help should concern arise during an excursion/incursion

Students on excursions/incursions are informed of their right to feel safe during excursions/incursions. They are advised of ways to seek help if they are concerned about the behaviour of any person participating in the excursions/incursions.

If any pre-excursion/incursion activities or preparation are required, the briefing should take place early enough to allow the activities/preparation to take place.

Where the excursion involves an activity that students have not previously undertaken or require training in, the school ensures that instructions and assistance are given to novice students until they acquire the necessary skills.

Changes to Circumstances

Al-Faisal College ensures that appropriate contingency plans are in place in the event of inclement weather or changes in the circumstances of the excursion/incursion environment.

In the lead up to the excursion/incursion organising staff must (as appropriate):

- a) check safety warnings;
- b) consult relevant authorities;
- c) monitor weather conditions; and
- d) be prepared to cancel or amend the excursion/incursion due to changing circumstances or safety concerns.
- e) provide the school office with telephone contact details of the supervising teacher

Third Party Providers

Where a third party provider is to conduct the excursion/incursion, the school must be satisfied that the third party provider is sufficiently experienced and competent to carry out the excursion/incursion.

The level of investigation required will depend on:

- a) the nature of the excursion/incursion;
- b) any special characteristics of the students participating in the excursion/incursion;
- c) the risks of the activities to be undertaken on the excursion/incursion;
- d) the skills and experience of the teachers in relation to the activities to be undertaken on the excursion/incursion;
- e) the school's past experience with the third party provider; and
- f) the supervising teacher's familiarity with the location of the excursion/incursion.

The school ensures that third party providers will take all steps necessary to ensure, so far as reasonably practicable, the health and safety of staff and students and have the experience and competency to provide the service.

Depending on the circumstances and the activity involved, the school may make some or all of the following inquiries:

Safety

- a) request copies of or information as to the:
 - safety policies implemented by the third party provider (Risk Assessments);
 - nature of, and steps taken to eliminate or minimise, known hazards;
 - training, supervision and monitoring that will be in place to ensure compliance with safe procedures;
 - safety record of the third party provider; and
 - emergency procedures and first aid arrangements in place;
- b) request confirmation that equipment and machinery (including personal protective equipment) is maintained, repaired and in good working order;

Personnel

- c) request confirmation that the guides have appropriate expertise and qualifications for the activities being undertaken;
- d) confirm that the provider and any person working with students is appropriately accredited to work with children, including under child protection legislation;

Insurance

- e) request evidence of the third party provider's public liability insurance;

General

- f) make inquiries of the Department of Fair Trading to determine whether there has been any complaints about the third party provider;
- g) request evidence of accreditation/licensing of the venue and its staff for the activities to be undertaken;
- h) request information about access and special requirements for students with special needs; and
- i) confirm the availability of appropriate facilities for example: refreshments, toilets etc.

Depending on the nature of the excursion/incursion, and particularly the level of risk involved, the school may want to review some or all of this material, rather than simply requesting confirmation that it exists. The higher the risk the more involved the school would be.

Consultation

Where there are a number of duty holders e.g. the school and the third party provider consult in relation to safety issues.

Excursions Run by the School

Where school runs the excursion/incursion, the school:

- a) chooses an area and activities safe for the age and skill level of students;
- b) uses proper equipment in good condition which is checked regularly;
- c) ensures an adequate teacher/student supervision ratio is maintained at all times;
- d) provides active supervision by teachers throughout the activity;
- e) ensures that the qualifications of all staff are appropriate and current;
- f) reviews the site or route beforehand;
- g) consults experts (if appropriate);
- h) trains teachers and students beforehand (if appropriate); and
- i) develops emergency procedures appropriate to the activity.

In determining the precautions to take, the school has regard to the age of students, the risks associated with the excursion/incursion and the particular risks facing a particular group. (for example a group of students with special needs).

Steps the School Takes During Excursions/Incursions

Immediately prior to the excursion/incursion, students are reminded:

- a) of any specific safety instructions given in relation to the excursion;
- b) of appropriate behaviour while on the excursion; and
- c) to follow instructions given to them by persons in authority for the duration of the excursion.

Teachers must implement control systems to ensure that students are supervised at all times during excursions/incursions and do not become lost. This might include head counts, buddy systems, provision of maps, and the arrangement of meeting points and so on.

Teachers must ensure that behavioural standards are enforced during the excursion/incursion and inappropriate behaviour is prevented.

Even where a teacher is unfamiliar with an excursion/incursion site or the activities to be undertaken on an excursion/incursion, the teacher can take steps to discharge the school's duty of care by:

- a) inspecting the premises to ensure that they appear safe;
- b) familiarising themselves with emergency procedures, including the location of emergency exits;
- c) satisfying themselves that the equipment to be used is apparently safe and is under the control of competent and careful people who are supervising its use;
- d) satisfying themselves that the premises are staffed by people:
 - i. engaged in active supervision; and
 - ii. apparently competent, careful and experienced; and
- e) observing the checks and inspections carried out by the provider to ensure they are adequate.

Teachers should continue to supervise students throughout the excursion/incursion, even in the course of activities conducted by third party providers. This is because the school's duty of care is non-delegable. Accordingly, the staff to student ratio must be sufficient to maintain control of students throughout the excursion/incursion.

If a teacher considers that a risk to the students has arisen, the teacher must take steps to eliminate or minimise that risk.

If the excursion is to take place outside, students and others should be encouraged to wear appropriate sun protection.

Students must not be permitted to take part in 'extra' activities in the course of an excursion if these activities are of a kind that would normally require the consent of parents/guardians.

Where the activities undertaken require specific skills, teachers should consider whether it is appropriate to separate novices from more experienced students in order to prevent injuries.

Teachers should ensure that, where relevant, they are aware of students' medical records or special medical needs with them during the excursion.

Risk Warnings

Appropriate risk warnings may assist in reducing the school's liability for breach of duty of care.

A risk warning should be provided to both students and parents regardless to the third party provider having its own risk warning. The school determines the final risk warning.
